Windsor, Ontario, Canada

The main entrance of the Pure and Applied Sciences Building at the University of Windsor, Canada's most southerly university.

Dear Clem & Marie,

June 3, 1971

Windsor is just across the river from Detroit - as I'm not really on for any so it seemed I'm up here for a workshop and it's just that with about 12 hrs every day. Back home on Sunday. How are you? Love, John
